SEVEN SEAS CRUISES

Jeffrey Stambor

Director of Winemaking, Beaulieu Vineyard

Jeffrey Stambor has worked at Beaulieu Vineyard for over twenty years, combining a deep knowledge of viticulture with intuitive winemaking. He joined BV in 1989 as viticulture-enologist and for many years served as an important connection between the winery and its historic vineyards in Napa Valley. He believes his experience working with legendary winemaker André Tchelistcheff was a unique opportunity to learn from a master. Jeffrey graduated from UC Davis and worked multiple vintages in France and other wineries throughout California, before joining BV. He has a reputation for creating complex, yet balanced wines that reflect the true character of the vineyards.

Paul Lukacs

Wine Writer, Educator, Advisor

Paul Lukacs has been a columnist for almost twenty years for such publications as The Washing Times, Washingtonian and Saveur magazines, and winereviewonline. He also is the author of two prize-winning books: The Great Wines of America: The Top Forty Vintners, Vineyards, and Vintages and American Vintage: The Rise of American Wine. Lukacs also has served as a judge at numerous wine competitions, both in America and in Europe. In addition, he is one of the organizers and founders of the International Oyster Wine Competition, held each November in Washington. Paul Lukacs also is a professor of English at Loyola University Maryland.

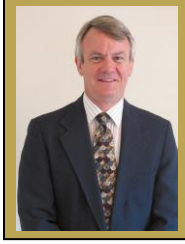
Marguerite Thomas

Wine, Food, & Travel Photo Journalist

Marguerite Thomas is an award-winning photo journalist specializing in wine, food and travel. She offers weekly blogs and wine reviews at winereviewonline, where she is also co-writer of Wine With, a bi-weekly food and wine pairing feature. She is a columnist at Vineyard & Winery Management (North America's leading independent wine trade publication,) and travel editor at The Wine News, where she contributes monthly feature stories. Her work regularly appears in scores of publications, including Decanter, Santé, Wine Enthusiast, Wine & Spirits, National Geographic Traveler, The Los Angeles Times, and Garden Design.

Paul Wagner

Wine Writer, Educator, Advisor



Paul is a respected wine educator, industry expert, author, and President of Balzac Communications, a leading marketing firm for many wineries in North America and Europe. He has taught classes at both Napa Valley College Viticulture and Enology Dept. along with the Culinary Institute of America, Greystone and is a founding member of the Academy of Wine Communications.
